Due to the unexpected arrival of the rain all the Novelty Events were cancelled. We would like to thank all who helped in any way to put on this Gymkhana.

In honor of our visitors the Larist Gymkhana Club held a winner roast at the Club grounds last Saturday night a good time was had by all.

The Club will be out in full force for the Rodeo Parade, also they will entertain during the afternoon intermission and a complete evening show both days. We will also have a booth set up on the grounds, in the North West corner by the hands drop over and see us.

In the same court a young man was convicted of driving while his licence was under suspension and was given a two month jail sentence. Immediately following his conviction both were taken to Fort Saskatchewan by R.C.M.P. officers.

In the side door window of all three different vehicles before finding one that he could get started.

He had no drivers licence and evidently did not know how to drive. Just north of Drayton Valley on Highway 57 he went in the ditch; the car rolled once and then righted itself and the lad drove back on to the highway and proceeded north, until a leak in the oil pan, sustained when the car went into the ditch, drained all the oil from the pan and burned out the motor, and the car was abandoned about three miles north of town.

Charged before Magistrate Deby with car theft and three charges of attempted theft, the young lad was sentenced to serve a year in Fort Saskatchewan and was taken there by local R.C.M.P. officers.

On Tuesday, July 25th., in Magistrate Hancock's court, two charges of assault, arising from a fight on the street, were placed against a waitress in one of the local cafes and she received a 30 day jail sentence on each count, for a total of 60 days imprisonment, with an accompanying ten dollar fine for intoxication.

For tagging his wife, item whom he is separated one man was placed under a 60 day suspended sentence. The Gymkhana Club staged a very excellent parade of homes and riders. The turnout by the club was a credit to the community. Though the rain chose that particular time to come down in the provincial boaters full, there were a good number of industrial floats in the parade, along with some club entries. The decorated bicycle event was judged before the parade started and the kiddies did not enter the parade down the muddy streets. Parade judges were Mrs. Deby, Mrs. Ian Wargh, Miss Bingley, Mrs. John Gray and Mr. Jerry Donovan.

shop till honeymooning Bob Barrett returns. Her husband is a contractor and lumberman at R.M. 14. An avid housewife Mrs. Gillis has a couple of fine homes at their home base.

Mrs. Chris Duffling, mother to Mrs. Ethel Lewis, of County Durham, England, left to return to the Old Country again after visiting with son-in-law and daughter, the Mrs. Lewis's. She spent about six weeks here.

Mrs. Deby has been back in Drayton Valley long enough now from her globe trotting in European Countries to assess the true value of her trip over there. She talks glowingly of the sights of Italy. She doesn't want to be quoted on this, but she thought England a rather cold and damp place, and somewhat backward in many of the ways. She visited most of the countries of Europe. She also particularly enjoyed her visit to Ireland.

WEATHER KAYOES 1961 RODEO

Water and more water from the low hanging clouds drenched those brave souls who ventured out to take part in the Rodeo Parade on Saturday noon. The same water drenched out all hopes of staging the Rodeo this year, although it did not dim hopes for a more successful, drier, venture next year, come Rodeo time.

Had the weather been such that the Rodeo could have been put on as planned it would undoubtedly have been the most successful one to date, as the advance planning and publicity that had gone into the big affair had exceeded anything in the past and had attracted many into town, even though early indications were that it would be too wet to hold the events on Friday as originally scheduled. The parade was postponed till noon Saturday, but that time proved even more damp than the preceding day. However, many were out to take part in the parade on Saturday and all deserve a big hand for their efforts.

The majorettes were starting barely through the mud, pacing the band which had turned out in full force also. The Gymkhana Club staged a very excellent parade of homes and riders. The turnout by the club was a credit to the community. Though the rain chose that particular time to come down in the provincial boaters full, there were a good number of industrial floats in the parade, along with some club entries. The decorated bicycle event was judged before the parade started and the kiddies did not enter the parade down the muddy streets. Parade judges were Mrs. Deby, Mrs. Ian Wargh, Miss Bingley, Mrs. John Gray and Mr. Jerry Donovan.

The majorettes were wet, the band was wet and the camera that took this picture was wet and out of focus, but this was the start of Saturday's parade.

went to Lynn Burrows, second prize to Stewart Adams and third prize to Valerie Payne. Special Prize went to Miss Schumann. In the first division the judges awarded first prize to the excellent float entered by Dowell, second prize went to the Eskimo float and third to Flit Rig. We might have missed one or two floats in the down pour but we counted some fourteen different entries and one or two entries were comprised of two or more units. Included in the list was the Lions trailer, a spur-of-the-moment entry by the Elks, an excellent cavemen and cavewoman float by Valley Drug, Lenon Welding with a specially built unit, Flit Rig, Town of Drayton Valley, Dowell, the Calgary Company, Alberta Rathole Drillers, a model of Fort in fine class running condition, the Eskimo float, Electrical Contractors Company, the Fire Department of Town of Drayton Valley, Tiny Acres, with a pony express rig in pee-wee size, drawn by Sheldan

On Saturday morning, in spite of threatening skies and an intermittent drizzle the Elks Lodge held their Outdoor Breakfast on the upper end of 51st Street with a good number of patrons stopping by to partake of hotcakes, eggs and bacon or sausage succulently cooked over charcoal fires. The very inclement weather kept many of the scheduled flights from attending, but a few did turn up at the airport. Included in the number was a Piper Comanche piloted by Maurice McCullagh, of Rocky Rapids, wartime aviator, with passengers Ken Wardlaw of Drayton Valley and Tony Shields.

The dance in the Recreation Centre, which was staged to the syncope music of the Rodgers Brothers Friday night drew a hang-up crowd. The Saturday night affair was also well attended, with a number of Dowell bands, and others, providing a comely night with comic turns. In the (cont. page 7, col. 1)

AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

A Drayton Valley girl received a fellowship to attend Banff School of Fine Arts and is now studying in that beautiful setting. Recipient of the fellowship was Miss Margo Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Palmer of Drayton Valley. The fellowship came from the Queen Elizabeth Fund which was set up by the Queen when she was visiting in Alberta a couple of years ago.

Margo received her tuition for a six week course in painting. The Banff School of Fine Arts is run in conjunction with the University of Alberta. The curriculum includes many courses in various departments, and is famous, particularly for artists in painting and sketching, because of the fine natural setting, with the backdrop of mountains adjacent to the town.

FUNERALS CONDUCTED FOR DROWNING VICTIMS

Funeral services were conducted for the ten year old victim of last Wednesday's tragic drowning accident in Lodgepole, Helen Patricia Hazard, from Sacred Heart Church in Edmonton on Saturday, July 29th., at 11:00 a.m. Besides her parents the young girl left to mourn their loss, three sisters, Mrs. Shirley Duthy of Fort St. John, B.C., Jean, aged 7 and Betty Lynn, aged three, of Lodgepole and three brothers, Leo and Ronald, of Edmonton, and George, aged 19, of Lodgepole. She was also survived by her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Peterman, of Twinwater, Alberta.

On Monday, at 3 p.m. July 31, funeral services were conducted for the other little girl who was drowned at the same time as the little Hazard girl in a water-filled dugout in Lodgepole last Wednesday; Beverly Ellen Day, aged 8, also of Lodgepole.

In addition to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Day, she is (cont. page 7, col. 1)

DONKEY BALL

By Mike Gormley

On Friday evening, August 4th., the local recreation picture will take on a new look—something altogether different. —if only for one evening. There will be some odd-looking little victims in town and before they leave there are bound to be some of the local populace who will wish that those little fellows had stayed away altogether. Cliff Dunham's Donkey Ball Show from Crescent Okla-homa is coming to Drayton Valley.

The Donkey Ball game will take place at the Legionnaires new baseball field at 6:30 p.m. The game sponsored by the Drayton Valley Athletic Association will feature a flock of Dunham's banking donkeys and a group of ball players and prospective donkey riders from Drayton Valley. The Legionnaires who have played some very outstanding baseball in the last year will form one team in this rare type of sport. A picked group known as the Drayton Valley "All-Stars" will furnish the opposition for the baseball champs.

Here is the All-Star lineup for Friday's show: Andy Anderson, shortstop; Al Baxter, 1st base; Billy Ross, 2nd base; Ted Fehr, 3rd base; M. Baxter, catcher; Ralph Bloor, pitcher; Alex Balash, left field; Doug Jenkins, center field; and Bill Davies right field. Al King will be the relief pitcher. Ted Fehr will serve as playing manager and Billy Ross will be the playing coach. (cont. page 7, col. 1)

WARBURG STORE BURNED

The large, well-stocked hardware and appliance store at Warburg was completely demolished by fire early Sunday morning, July 30, with a loss estimated at well over fifty thousand dollars. In addition to the hardware appliance and implement store, all under one roof, which was destroyed by the fire, the adjoining living quarters of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Charlton were also completely burned.

The crying of a baby in the house
lately awakened Mr. and Mrs.
Charlton and was undoubtedly the means of saving the lives of all the residents of the house, as the flames were well advanced at that time. They called Warburg Fire department under the direction of Fire Chief Mart Lammer-more and eleven year old Darlene ran to the home of Tom Const able Tom Gies to tell him of the fire.

At one time the fire fighting unit of Warburg, with the aid of fire equipment from Weston almost had the flames under control, but the fire reached a large stock of paint in the building and blazed out of control again. To add to the fire were several acetylene tanks and a large supply of ammunition which Mr. Charlton had just acquired in readiness for the hunting season. The ammunition exploded during the fire, but forunately no one was injured.

Starting at about 9:30 a.m. the fire raged for over four hours, and smouldered throughout the day. During the height of the fire almost all the residents of the town turned out to watch the configuration. It was the third large fire in Warburg in recent years. A hardware building immediately adjoining the site of the Charlton building, owned by Mr.
M. Latinsky now resident in Drayton Valley burned down about three years ago, and a previous building almost as large was burned just previous to that.
The Charlton building was about 30 by 110 feet in area, with an attached house. A truck and a tractor that were in the rear of the store were also destroyed.

THE MANAGER OF THE BANK OF CANADA MUST BE MADE TO UNDERSTAND THAT HE IS THE SERVANT OF PARLIAMENT.
Reprinted from the International Commons Magazine, July edition.

These should never have been any room left for a disagreement between the manager of the Bank of Canada, the servant of Parliament who in turn is the servant of the people as a whole, however much they may differ in their political views, and Parliament must never again in a show of its servants in any capacity to question its decisions as has been done by James Coyne, the appointed manager. And sufficient subordination should be invested in the Minister of Finance to remove its appointee manager when it is necessary without having to go to Parliament for a special act to remove to unsatisfactory servant,
no matter in what position. Mr.
Coyne was the appointee of a former Government and the present Parliament should not be in any way bound by its decisions when its appointees are found to be unsatisfactory. And a political appointment should be terminated by the Minister of Finance, who is the head of the finance department, including the Bank of Canada, and who are trained in the banking business to serve Parliament, and which is serving the people, apart from politics. The Canadian people have had enough of a servant defying the Master-the people.

The corporal was preparing to respond to a remark which was fresh from the backwoods. "Wash your hands," he instructed.
Both of them? "I inquired the result."
"No, just one of 'em like to see you do it."

Scoop's Notebook

Visiting in Drayton Valley for Rodos week was its first citizen, Mrs. William Drake, with her daughter Mrs. Mary Gentling of New Westminster, B.C. They were guests of Mrs. Drake's other daughter, Mrs. Gordon Kynoch, of Drayton Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fullerton, of Bonito, Manitoba, were recent visitors. They were visiting with Mr. Fullerton's brother and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Larry Fullerton. Keith said that crops in the Manitoba area where he was teaching are practically a total failure this year.

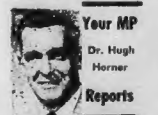

Gertie Dutechoff, formerly of Tomahawk, was also a recent visitor. Miss Dutechoff is now working in the Bank of Nova Scotia main branch in Edmonton. While in Drayton Valley she worked in the main branch of the Royal Bank.

C. J. Frank, with his attractive wife, were visiting to Drayton Valley for Rodos time also. Mr. Frank worked for Imperial Lumber for several years in Drayton Valley and is now with McFarland Lumber Company as their Swan Hills branch manager.

Always alert to a good thing when they see it the Franks subscribed to the PNA when leaving Drayton Valley. They requested that through our columns we greet all their former friends in this area, whom they did not have a chance to see while they were here on this trip.

Mrs. Al. King, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alno, of Lamont, visited their daughter and son-in-law and family recently.

Skia-diving enthusiast Clint Clausen representing Drayton Valley at the Sylvan Lake Regatta Annual Skia Diving Camp took third place in provincial championships. He was competing against 25 other divers.

Reports

The recent announcement by the Hon. Alvin Hamilton, extending the operational boundaries of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration to include all settled areas of the prairie provinces will be good news to our area. This is something that we have been asking for in the north for many years.

P.F.R.A. was established in 1935 in the drought years to provide for farmland rehabilitation. Over the years it has concentrated on long term water conservation and land utilization programs. In some provinces this has meant a number of P.F.R.A. community pastures, however Alberta has never annexed this phase of its operations. Many individual in-igation project have been developed and more than 65,000 farm dugouts have been built.

I am hopeful that with a combination of P.F.R.A. and the new Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act that we will be able to have programs of water conservation, land utilization and other development which will help the agricultural and recreational facilities of our area.

The lawyer informed his client, "I have arranged a settlement with your husband that is fair to both of you."

"Fair to both?" she stormed. "Why do you think I hired you? I could have done that myself!"

Spotlight on HEALTH

Meeting A Complex Problem -

The modern world, with its fast pace and its many tensions, has proven an ideal setting for the development of what people frequently but not too accurately describe as "nervous stomachs."

It has been estimated that about one out of every ten Canadians suffers from peptic ulcer at some time. Many more develop troublesome symptoms that accompany hyperacidity, such as "heartburn" and other forms of gas pain.

FOR THE SAKE OF ARGUMENT

REV. JOHN G. FERRY SAYS

I don't think the churches should unite

REPRINTED FROM THE MCKEANS AUGUST 12, 1961 EDITION.

Just before Christmas last year the Archbishop of Canterbury paid a visit to Pope John in Rome. This unorthodox meeting of dignitaries from the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches immediately set the press speculating what it was all about, and whether or not these two communions would join forces against the threat of communism.

In Canada there have been talks on the "reunion" of the Anglicans and the United Church of Canada for years, and just recently there came to my desk a combined missive from the moderator of the United Church and the prime of the Anglicans to all ministers and congregations asking them to give playful consideration to this most urgent problem.

In May of this year, at a meeting of the National Council of the Churches of Christ, Dr. Eugene Canon Blake suggested a far-reaching plan whereby four of the largest Protestant denominations in the United States—United Presbyterian, Protestant Episcopal, Methodist, and Churches of Christ—would be merged into one with a combined membership of more than eighteen million. This is only one of six such movements under way in the United States. Church Unionism has become a fashionable movement.

This is so because Christians generally feel that the world is crying for a Church that exalts peace and unity among nations but can't even unite in its own forces in a single denomination. This is a simple logical thinking. In my estimation such an organic merging of all denominations would not be desirable—even if it were possible. So let's stop shooting at an empty trench, and realize that the Christians of the world don't have to belong to one Big Church before they can speak prophetically and authoritatively on the problems of our day.

I have a great respect for the Baptists. Some of my ministers are among my personal friends. But I have a theory that it's not the amount of water used in a baptismal service that's important. What real difference does it make, however, if my Baptist friends disagree?

My wife is a former Anglican who seems thoroughly satisfied with her place in the United Church of Canada. A United Church girl from my home town on the prairie married an Anglican clergyman, and I see no reason why she can't fit into the life of the Anglican Church. But it would be naive to suggest that a merger of the two communions is that simple.

One church believes in a single order of the ministry—that is, all ministers are of equal status, and all offices are filled by election. The other church believes in the episcopal church, with a graduated authority of the clergy, something the same as officers in the army.

There are advantages to both systems, apart from the problems of Scriptural and historic justification, and who's to say which system is right? Or even if either system is entirely right? But if the churches were to unite, which system would prevail?

Vitality is generated by a healthy order of opinion. The Protestant Reformation four hundred years ago sparked a counter-reformation within the Church of Rome. Martin Luther's views on the Sacraments put John Calvin on his metal, and John Wesley shook the Church of England out of a slumber of lethargy that had well nigh proved fatal to both church and nation. In Canada in 1926, the Presbyterian ministry that remained outside the United Church of Canada kept that body from growing too comfortable and snug with its pioneering accomplishments in the field of Church Union. The Pentecostals and related sects, with their emphasis on personal experience and healing by faith, awakened the rest of Christendom to an area of faith that they'd long since resigned to the medical profession without thought of justification—the cure of souls.

THE USES OF DISAGREEMENT
One of the darkest periods in the history of mankind was that which existed just before the Protestant Reformation, when One Big Church held both ecclesiastical and political authority over the civilized world. Freedom was unknown.

It was the dissenting churches that ultimately forced a change in the religious climate of Europe. Men were given the right of conscience to religious matters—a right we still hold dear. It could never have been won under the old order. It can be maintained only as religious people agree to disagree for conscience sake.

I prize the nonconformist tradition. And I for one am highly suspicious of anything that smacks of conformity. At the same time I recognize that the conformists are entitled to their point of view. Their position is probably that that nonconformity, carried to its ultimate, would end in chaos and anarchy. Perhaps. But conformity, carried to its ultimate, affords freedom of the spirit so that empty form devoid of spiritual vitality is often the result.

It is not one who believes that people should be tolerant of other people to the extent of submerging conscience—just for outer appearances. I believe that most of our current trouble stems from the fact that people are so fearful of being different from other people that they harbor no deep convictions of any of the real and urgent issues.

The result is that while Christianity has a faith by which to direct its people, even though it may be a godless one, we who proclaim faith in God act as if he didn't exist, simply because we don't want to offend anyone. We need to be reminded that the prophets were stoned and the martyrs were burned at the stake, because they held convictions deeply and sincerely and were not timid about stating them.

If a man wants to be a Pentecostal, that's his business. He recognizes the Lordship of Christ, and he is surely therefore a brother to me, even though there are points of his approach to the Christian faith with which I disagree. If the Anglicans want to believe that, that's their business. I don't agree with the system of episcopacy, but one of my great heroes is the late William Temple, one-time Archbishop of Canterbury.

Looking at Recreation

By: Michael Conroy, Recreation Director.

RAIN RUINS RODEOS

In years to come when the venerable folk of Drayton Valley get to reminiscing on the colorful subject of rodeo, many years will be spent about the ill-fated 1961 show. It will go down in local history as the rodeo that never came off. The rodeo will be told about the opening of the flood gates of heaven and the three days and three nights of intermittent rain completely washing out all the rodeo events as well as all other activities relating to the rodeo. Someone will always tell of the parade in the driving rain and how the town street and the rodeo grounds were turned into genuine mud bowls. Those may be things that most of us will not care to remember, but all the same they will furnish perfect material for some all-year spinning when rodeo time rolls around in future years.

All in all the unfortunate turn of events weatherwise was most regrettable as this year's venture loomed as the most successful rodeo to date. An enormous amount of planning and work on the financial end of the story. The weather was certainly damp around the "Valley" last week-end but I do not think that it dampened too many genuine rodeo spirits. The famous old Brooklyn Dodge slogan: "Wait until next year." seems to be the general response; and I dare say right now that possibly the 1962 rodeo will be the greatest ever seen in those parts. It's quite a way off yet, but one thing for sure and certain; the weather will be better next year—it just could not be any worse.

BATTING AVERAGES

Of course it goes without saying that weather until to permit rodeo events is not exactly baseball weather either. In fact it has been well over a week since any ball was played on the local diamonds. The local Post-View line-up league is a far way off schedule by now, however, what's most important some of our teams playing in the Provincial Playdowns are the better teams in the area. After the local Post-View line-up league at Post-View triumphed the outfit from Big Valley a week ago they were scheduled to play off against Red Deer with the first two games set for the Central City line 5th day. The weatherman didn't get a damper on any of this—so now all three games have to be squeezed into one week-end either here or in Red Deer. The visitors have to come here to meet next week-end, and over and over again on Saturday and a couple of more on Sunday. That is to say we are on good terms with the weatherman when the week-end rolls around which is a very good question judging from the past five or six weeks. Should the weather be unfavorable here and the sun is shining bright in Red Deer they will likely be spending the week-end out of town trying to bring home the laurels. Personally, I would like to see the three games here if at all possible, however, one way or another the series must be completed by next Sunday night. The D.V. Lions, the Colt entry into the playdowns were to have received the Donalds team here Sunday, however, we all know their three baseball diamonds were in around the corner on the week-end. Donalds has already taken a couple of games from the local team, so just what the procedure will be in this case is not immediately known. In my opinion the Donalds boys will still have to come to Drayton Valley to finish the series. Once again, the time element is putting the pressure on as this series was to have been completed by July 30th. So, as things stand right now, we are patiently awaiting further word or some ruling on the procedure of the series.

In the juvenile realm, Bill Davies and his charges swept through the Barhead Tournament a week ago and now are awaiting the outcome of the Edmonton League Playoff to take on the winner. It is strongly expected that Leduc will come out on top in this one. This would be exactly the way Davies and his boys would want things to proceed as they have been wanting to get a crack at the highly touted Leduc outfit all summer. Hem will likely be their big chance with everything at stake, for should the local get by Leduc their chances of eventually carrying away a Provincial Championship would be very good to say the least. This series starts off in Drayton Valley and will likely get under way by next week-end.

The D.V. Oilers, the local Peewee hopefuls in the Provincial competition could not quite cut the mustard this year as they dropped out to Barhead in a fine series. Barhead took the first two games here in the "Valley" a week ago and last Sunday the "Little Men" from Drayton dropped a couple more encounters in the Northern town. Barhead took the first game 16-8 and edged the local 7-5 in the nightcap. There is no doubt about it, the Barhead team was the superior outfit throughout the entire series. They are a real little ball team and stand a good chance of going places in the Provincials. On the other hand, the Oilers have nothing to be ashamed of in losing. It rodeo on all pit and honey for the Northern boys as the local fought tooth and nail in a losing cause, and did come close on occasion. The Barhead team seemed to have the edge in experience and were a bit sharper competing crucial plays, thus the difference in the two teams. To the Oilers, I would like to say: "A nice try—better luck next year"—and remember it is all proud of you. It is close to win, but it is nobler to lose as true sportsmen and true gentlemen as you did.

Survey by the Canadian Census Society showed that whereas in 1954 almost 60 per cent of Canadian women knew that cancer can often be cured, in 1960 the proportion was 73 per cent.

2. What is the minimum amount of roughage that a cow needs?

Digestive disturbances often occur when too little roughage is fed but in extreme cases of hay shortage as little as 4 to 6 lb./day for a mature cow will likely maintain rumen function. That is, provided that proper care has been taken to supply the necessary minerals and vitamins in the ration.

IMPORTANT: Hay, straw or green pasture is usually relied upon to provide vitamin A. Straw, poor hay or cereal grain supply no vitamin A so this must be provided to prevent abortions and to in chronic disease resistance.

The section of Dr. Bell's article to be covered next week deals with vitamin A, substituting straw for hay, and an example of how to utilize limited supplies of hay.

TO OUR PATRONS:
CLAIMS ARE EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

1. How grain and hay compare as sources of protein and energy?

Table 1 illustrates typical examples and shows that, as a rule, grain contains more energy (total digestible nutrients; T.D.N.) and more protein than do hays, legumes possibly excepted. This means that substitution of grain for part of the roughage is likely to improve the protein supply. Further, because of the higher energy content of grain each 100 lb. of hay could be replaced by 60-75 lb. of grain without lowering the plane of nutrition.

Feed-Fat, % digestible protein, % total digestible nutrients—dig. nut.

Feed	fat	pro.	dig. nut.
barley	8.0	60
oat hay	4.0	47
alfalfa hay	10.5	60
oat straw	0.7	48
wheat straw	0.8	41
barley	10.0	78
oats	8.4	70
wheat	15.3	81

2. How much can one afford to feed?

The answer to this question will vary from farm to farm depending on quality of livestock, general relationships between market values and feed costs, etc. For most purposes, however, hay prices should be assessed in relation to prices for grain. The value in Table 3 shows the costs per ton of average quality hay against the corresponding values per bushel of grain, also of average quality. For the shipping dock. Most important of all the conditions of a customer because, although he may receive full replacement value, there is delay in replacing damaged items and in effecting settlement.

It seems to us that since every-body loses time when claims must be everybody's business. Most damage or loss claims arise from carelessness. The claimant too often can be traced to an attitude on the part of the shipping employee, that it becomes the carrier's responsibility as soon as it is off the dock or carrier employees who feel it couldn't matter less because "The Company's insured" or by pick-up drivers who are in a hurry to finish the day. Individual responsibility is thus dismissed with a shrug.

If we accept the fact that we all lose through carelessness or mis-guided employee attitudes, then we must also accept the fact we have a joint responsibility in correcting it. This reducing claim costs and improving customer relations. We feel proper instruction, good packing and loading procedures and a little more care can improve our service and help increase your business.

Surely it is more desirable to earn a reputation as a firm which has a minimum of claims rather than merely as a firm which pays it's claims promptly.

Best Regards,
The Management.

Letter To the Editor:-

Dear Mr. A. Playford:
I meant to write to you for months about this. It's about the "Welcome Little Stranger" column. I wish you'd put Mr. & Mrs. (husband's name) instead of the woman's first name, which half the time doesn't mean a thing as we have never heard her first name before.

Now, who loses? The carrier certainly, in cash for replacement, the cost of administration and in good will. The shipper also suffers somewhat as his service to his customer is delayed and there is always some doubt, with package goods, as to their condition on leaving.

I have congratulated the wrong father again the other day, not knowing them and another person with the same last name around here, which is quite embarrassing for both.

And another thing we fathers are just as proud and happy to have as addition to the family, so can't see why only the mother's name should be mentioned.

Hope you'll have the proud fathers in next week. Thank-you. Enjoy your paper otherwise.

A Faithful Reader.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We made this up with the very cooperative hospital office staff and they said it could be arranged o.k. So next week we'll have proud poppa's name in too.

vived by three brothers, Dan, Kenny and Kevin, two sisters, Barbara and Kathy, all of Lodgepole; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Day of Winfield and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Andrews, of Winfield.

Funeral services for the little Day girl were conducted from Poplar Valley Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, with Rev. J. Gamble officiating. Burial was in Poplar Valley Cemetery.

So fast, make it a point to take in this donkey ball encounter. It is always a popular and exciting show and is bound to produce laughs galore. Among the added attractions will be Dunham's "Clown Donkey", a dumb looking - east with stripes similar to a zebra. By what we've told this odd-looking fellow is the sworn enemy of all would-be donkey riders. A genuine donkey who may turn out not to be so dumb after all.

at draw for the trailer raffled off by the Rodeo-sponsoring Lions Club, Jack Fordell, of Ohio Oil was the lucky winner.

There was some talk when the rodeo was in long out on both Friday and Saturday, of holding it on Monday, but the meteorological bureau in Edmonton could not give any assurance that the weather would be any better, and since the mid-way was moving on Saturday night, it was decided to cancel the rodeo for this year and to hope for better weather next year.

Out at the Rodeo grounds our far-famed mid was at its very best. The midway carried on bravely, with a few busy teen-agers and children who had put the pressure on their parents to take them there, wandering around the grounds. Needless to say all the concessions had only a few isolated customers. One attraction on the grounds was the fifty year old Case steam engine, owned by Ken Badgerow, of Carmwood. Mr. Badgerow said he had owned the engine for 57 years. The 5'4" steam engine, now a common sight on the prairies, had been kept in condition to carry a head of steam and was in perfect operating shape. For six years, the engine was rated at 45 H.P. and would pull a 28 inch separator, threshing wheat.

So, our much-publicized rodeo was indeed out to the disappointment of all concerned. Among those who were disappointed were the cowboys who had come from far and wide to compete in the event on both days. One cowboy had registered in from Florida; and the total number of entries far exceeded that of other years, which would have given us first class rodeo competition had the rodeo been run. Perhaps these cowboys were the hardest hit of all, as they come to these affairs at their own expense, with no guarantee of any kind. They are competing for prizes in the toughest kind of competition. It they get hurt they can't leave on compensation cheques during the time they are laid off, and, of course, have to pay their own medical expenses. They are engaged in one of the toughest of competitive sports. The top men make good money in the rodeo year, but the average and below.

average barely makes beans and bacon, and runs lots of risk in doing even that much.

We are sorry for the cowboys who have been run out of scheduled.

FAREWELL BANQUET HELD FOR DR. & MRS. BROOKS

After over seven years of residence in and service to this district Dr. and Mrs. Brooks left this week to begin practice in their new district; the new district of Sherwood Park about four miles outside of the southeast limit of the City of Edmonton. This is a new district, comprised for the most parts of residences, which was started just a few years ago and now has a population of about four thousand. It is located just off No. 14 Highway, not too far from the Alberta Game Farm.

On Tuesday evening the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce sponsored a farewell banquet to bid the departing family goodbye. A large number of friends gathered in the Cardium Room, where they ate dinner and watched the presentation of the gift of a brochure to Dr. and Mrs. Brooks, by Mr. Swanton in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

Along with the brochure a note of lightness was added by the presentation of a pair of ovisvie over shoes to Dr. Brooks, who has very large feet and has always had trouble getting ovisvie shoes to fit him; then too the ovenhoes, along with rubber boots was so much a part of the footgear of all who lived here in the first few years that everyone appreciated the humor of the presentation.

Dr. and Mrs. Brooks were very much amused at the unexpected gift of the large rubber boots.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Mr. Gordon Bowman. In addition to the guests of honor, Dr. and Mrs. Brooks, seated at the head table were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowman, Mayor and Mrs. Adair Meiers, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Deby and Mr. and Mrs. Byrum.

At the close of the dinner Dr. Brooks gave a speech of thanks to those assembled and to Drayton Valley district at large for the warmth of the friendliness and many kindnesses that had been shown them during their past years of association with the people of this district. He also gave an interesting resume of some of the highlights of exciting times they had seen, particularly in medical practice since coming to this area in February, 1924.

Pembina Water Supply Is Safe

The use of about 600,000,000 gallons yearly for secondary recovery of oil in the Pembina area, 70 miles southwest of Edmonton will not significantly decrease the local groundwater resources there, a report says. The Pembina field has an anticipated life span of 40 years. This information is contained in R. N. Farveland's report, Groundwater Resources in the Pembina Area, issued by the Research Council of Alberta.

RODGERS BROS. ORCHESTRA AT THE RODEO DANCE.

THE KIDDIES HAD PUT IN A LOT OF WORK ON THEIR DECORATED BICYCLES ON THE RAINY MORNING OF THE PARADE.

This is Drayton Valley's first citizen in point of time. Mrs. William Drake came in here with her husband in the fall of 1909 which qualifies her as the first original settler in this area.

She was born in Portmouth, England, and she and her husband with their first-born daughter, Dora, came to Canada in 1907. They went first to Northern Ontario where Mr. Drake worked for about a year, and then came to Manitoba where he took in the harvest. Working westward the Drakes came to Edmonton where he got a job first with a lumber company and then with a survey crew. They moved into the Tomahawk district where they stayed for a brief time and then in the fall of 1909 they came into this district, which is now known as the Drayton Valley district. They fitted on a homestead just west of the present townsite, the quarter on which the rodeo grounds are now located. Dr. Drake worked that winter in the both while Mr. Drake remained in the homestead. The following year, Mrs. Drake opened the store at the spot where the old log cabins are just west of town and she also operated the portofice for the mail that was brought in about once a week, from Tomahawk and from the Bill Jeffries place in what is now Rocky Rapids. During the time of hauling the mail from Rocky Rapids they brought it in on horse back and if Mr. Drake was unable to go the eldest daughter went instead.

When Mrs. Drake came in here with her husband in the fall of 1909 she was the only woman in the district and it was twelve months before she saw another woman which was when Mrs. Jonken came in here with her husband the following year.

In 1918 Mr. Drake went into the army and served 3 1/2 years. Discharged in 1919 he returned to this area. Mrs. Drake had been keeping up the homestead with the help of the children of which there were four, Dora, (Mrs. Gordon Kynock) born in England; May, (now Mrs. Gering, Johnny and Albert who were born in Alberta. When Mrs. Drake first started the portofice here in 1910 it was called Powerhouse, on account of the proposed dam project on the Saskatchewan River but during the First World War the dam project was dropped and since there was another portofice in the west by the same name the portofice department in Ottawa wrote asking if another name could be chosen for this portofice. After due consideration Mrs. Drake submitted the name of Drayton from a town in
